Cabinet explores strategies to reimagine Keralam

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Kozhikode: Keralam's council of ministers, including chief minister V D Satheesan, turned 'students' on Friday and attended classroom sessions at Indian Institute of Management - Kozhikode (IIM-K).

LEADERSHIP RETREAT AT IIM-K

In the first day of the two-day strategic leadership retreat titled 'Reimagining Keralam', the cabinet explored ideas on leadership, technology, healthcare, climate resilience and the state's future. The retreat began with the ceremonial lighting of the lamp, followed by a session by IIM-K director Prof Debasish Chatterjee on 'Transformational Leadership in the Age of AI: Engaging People with Purpose and Impact'. The first day's sessions, spread over more than five hours, covered subjects ranging from artificial intelligence and governance to healthcare, climate resilience, disaster preparedness, ageing and emerging economic opportunities.

Dr Aravind Srinivasan, chief medical officer, Aravind Eye Hospital, Chennai, led the special session on 'Positioning Keralam as a Healthcare and Wellness Destination'. Climate resilience and disaster preparedness were discussed from an international perspective in a session led by Rajib Shaw, professor, Graduate School of Media and Governance, Keio University, Japan, along with Prof Anupam Das of IIM-K. Another session explored how policy decisions could be translated into sustained behavioural and social change at the grassroots.

On second day the focus will be on state's economy, employment, higher education and global positioning.
